ROSTER OF SUPERIOR MERIT

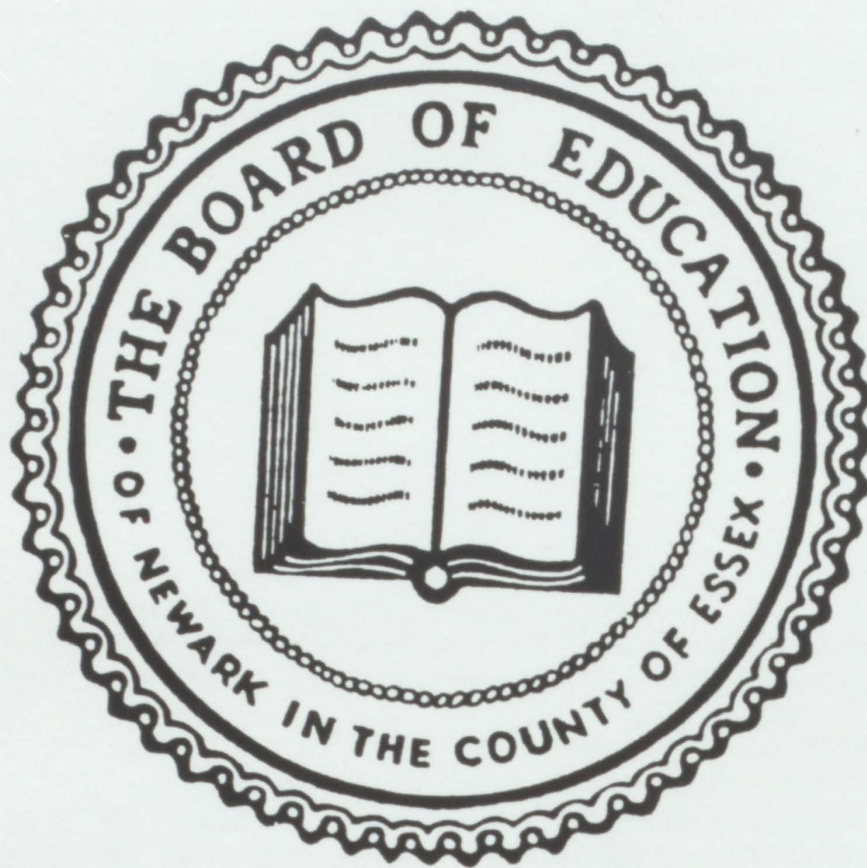

CASIMER J. POMIANEK

Casimer J. Pomianek is an outstanding East Side High graduate of the Class of 1938. During his high school career, he excelled in football and baseball earning all City, all State and Athlete of the year honors in 1938.

In World War II he was assigned to the Eightieth Division, a unit of General George C. Patton's Third Army and participated in the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium. After serving in the army, he attended the University of Washington where he earned a degree in economics. Thereupon he was employed by Texaco, enjoyed a seventeen year tenure as an executive sales manager.

Mr. Pomianek is an example of an East Sider who used his abilities and talents to their best advantage. He graciously offered these comments, "I want to go on record [to say] that whatever success I have achieved in life . . . I owe . . . to the many dedicated teachers and professors [who] taught me how to use my God given talents."

Mr. Pomianek was elected to the Newark Athletic Hall of Fame in 1989.

IN MEMORIAM

The Class of 1990 respectfully dedicates this Yearbook to the memory of Miss Virginia E. Wright.

When Virginia Elizabeth Wright passed away in the autumn of 1989, a life-force was taken from our community. East Siders were left with an overwhelming sorrow for the loss of a friend, a colleague, a teacher.

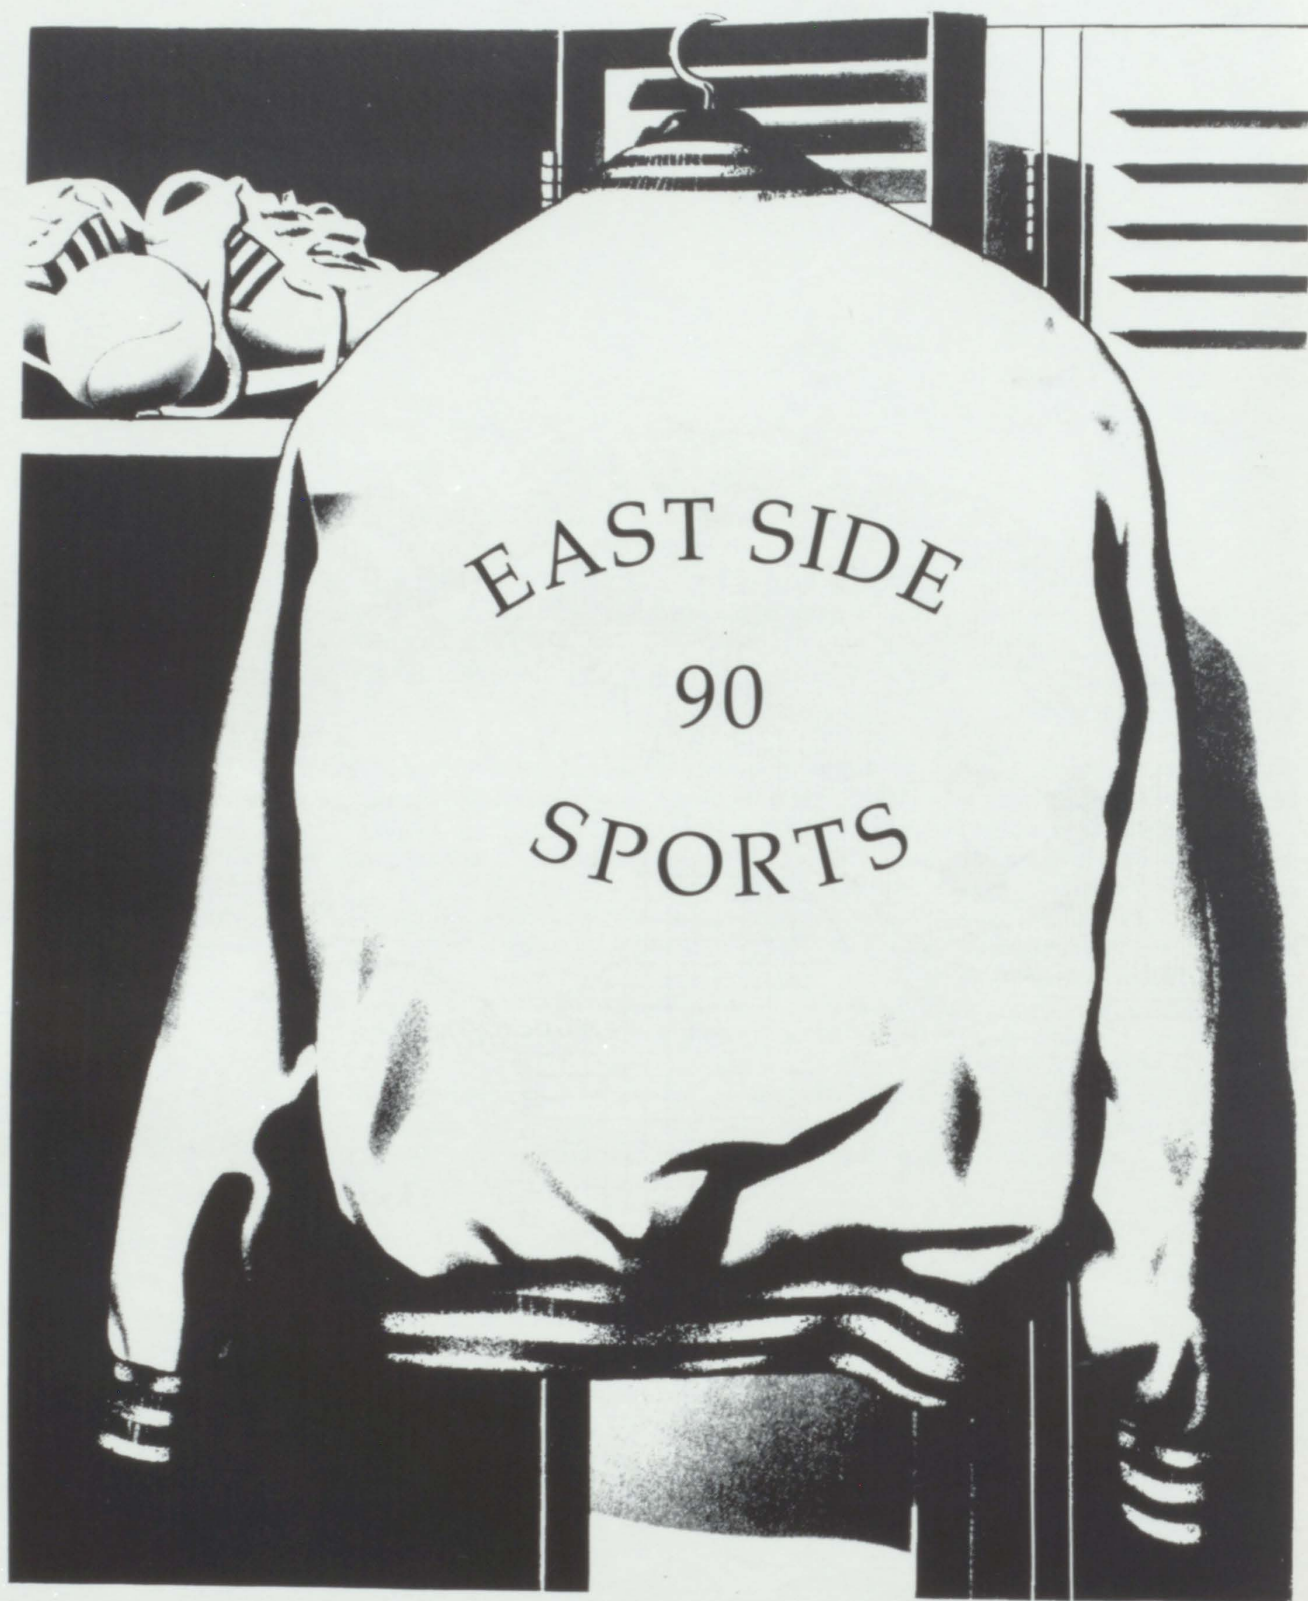

For almost thirty years Miss Wright was here to nurture her students. She encouraged them to be independent. She taught them self-esteem and made them believe in themselves. She overlooked their indiscretions and reinforced their strengths. Unobtrusively, she guided many a teenager to adulthood.

To her friends and colleagues she was "Ginny," a pleasant human being who enjoyed being with people. Usually her hearty laughter lightened the day. She rarely complained, seldom became angry. She rejoiced in the happiness of others and empathized with them in their heartaches.

Virginia left a huge void in our lives, an emptiness not likely to ever be filled. Our consolation lies in the legacy she left her many friends and countless students — a legacy of undaunted spirit, rich friendship, warmth, loyalty, integrity, sensitivity, and idealism.

On behalf of all her students, friends and colleagues, I bid farewell to Virginia Wright, a teacher, a lady with class, a complete human being.

Merci, Mademoiselle, pour nous donner l'occasion de vous connaitre.

Seniors,

You have reached one of many pinnacles in your lives. Four years ago, you entered East Side High School as children and now leave as young adults. As your future begins, I ask you to remember the past with affection, to plan your future with honesty, and to respect others.

When I accepted the challenge of being your class advisor, I felt anxiety at first, then apprehension, then finally, elation. I might expect you also to experience similar feelings of doubt and trepidation as you begin another stage in your lives. Be resolved to reach your highest goal however, and I'm certain you will be successful.

Because this great class of 1990 is the first I have had the opportunity to act as advisor, you have earned a special place in my heart and there you will always remain. Remember me not only as your advisor but also as your friend. Never forget those happy moments we shared and these few words of appreciation that come from my heart.

Congratulations to the class of a new decade.
